'INTERNATIONAL FISHERY GIS SOCIETY was established in 1997. It is located at the Environmental Simulation Laboratory (ESL), Kawagoe, Saitama, Japan. The objective of this Society is to promote GIS and Spatial analyses in Fishery and Aquatic Sciences. Its primary activity is to organize the tri-ennial 'International Symposium on GIS/Spatial analyses in Fishery and Aquatic Sciences' and to publish its Proceedings. There are some 5,000 members in more than 50 countries and some 20 international organizations.
